JazzAhead Up Down-Under!

January and February, cold months here in Austria, but Jazz is played hot in Australia. Heinz von Hermann, saxophonist and flautist from the Salzkammergut, was on the road as a soloist. A special class of event took place in Melbourne, in the first jazz club for non-smokers at the Rydge Hotel. Together with the Brazilian drummer and percussionist, Carlos Ferreira, with Bob Sedergren on piano and Nick Haywood on bass, the four musicians really warmed up the audience. In Wagga Wagga, at the jazz festival on Australian National Day, the motto was: Remember.....it's Jazz, it only happens once. Heinz von Hermann was the star of the evening with a local rhythm section. Television and the press were present at a completely sold-out house ! On the flight home von Hermann stopped off at the Singapore jazz club, "Southbridge," where contacts for the future were made and where he earned a standing ovation as the star saxophonist. JazzAhead was once again on the road worldwide as an ambassador for Austrian jazz.
